2. SPECIFICATION

2.1. BACKGROUND

The Department of Community Safety has a constitutional mandate to inter alia strengthen community - police relations and raise awareness on crime related issues. The National Development Plan, Vision 2030 emphasizes building safer communities as outlined in Chapter 12. The White Paper on Safety and Security of 2016 states that building safer communities requires collective efforts from both the state and the citizenry.

The Integrated Crime and Violence Prevention Strategy (ICVPS) read with the Provincial Safety Strategy reaffirms the importance of collaboration and integration to promote safer communities. Crime and violence are mostly caused by several factors such as idleness, substance abuse, lack of skills to alleviate poverty and inadequate access to services. The Eastern Cape Department of Community Safety adopted a mobilization theme "Musa Ukuthula Kusunakala" to activate community participation.

The Department of Community Safety has community patrollers who have been capacitated by the department. The community patrollers are preventing any criminal activities within their villages. This is after incidents of crime have terrorized Eastern Cape communities. Some of these areas are policed by Police Stations which are very far.

It has been reported on a few occasions that network coverage for cellphones is a challenge in many parts of the province as such communication gets to be interrupted during or at the time of criminal activities. The department has since committed to capacitating community patrollers and provide them with reflector jackets for identification and two-way radios as means of communication.

The MEC for Community Safety has also been approached by different members of communities with the intention of asking for assistance with two-way radios to provide elderly who tend to be victims of crime. The initiative is supported by the MEC to promote active community participation in community safety. The department took a decision to pilot this project within Amathole and Chris Hani District.
